FRESH HARVEST DATES for VEGETABLES in CARTERET COUNTY

Farmers and gardeners in Carteret County are able to harvest fresh, healthy vegetables almost every month of the year. Some vegetables grow best in the cool, shorter days of late winter and early spring, others need warm summer soils, and some prefer that time when summer begins to fade to fall. This chart helps you understand which vegetables are freshly harvested and ready for your table each month of the year here in Carteret County.

If you want to preserve any of these vegetables while they are fresh and abundant, consider canning, freezing or pickling. Find out all you need to know at www.nchfp.uga.edu

For more information and classes about gardening, or food production, preparation, and preservation, plus health and nutrition, go to the Carteret County Cooperative Extension's website: <http://carteret.ces.ncsu.edu>

There is a certain satisfaction, even joy, that comes when you select good food from a bin of vegetables harvested that same morning. It just feels right to hunt for and gather up the best from each new season to feed yourself and your family. It's easy to get that feeling here at the Crystal Coast. Let us introduce you to your local farmers, and teach you which vegetables and fruits they are harvesting each month of the year.
